

Joanne H Glauser

Joanne has led the Shoes That Fit program in Delaware for 28 years, helping over 25,000 students, implementing a Student Shoe Bank in all 3 Delaware counties, and capturing the hearts of many Delaware funders to ensure at-risk students in Delaware will have new brand-name shoes for many years to come!

Joanne is a full-time risk manager, supporting technology and business risk management for major US banks for over 20 years. Her family—including her husband, John, her son, Chris, and her daughter, Elise—have all helped to support Shoes That Fit's impact in Delaware. She is excited to see support for Shoes That Fit grow in Delaware to bring community awareness about the needs of the state's most vulnerable residents—the homeless, foster, and low-income students in Delaware.
